Kreate What U Want's policies with Free Intro Calls is that when you schedule a booking for the Free Call and you are a no-show for the first two attempts and would like to reschedule for the third free intro call, there will be a charge of $30, for the third rescheduled intro booking.

SAFE SPACE

VIRTUAL: Both individual and group sessions are meant to provide the participant a safe space so Kreate What U Want asks for the individual to have a space, while in session, where there are little-to-no distractions. Each session is designed to be personable and for the participant to self-express and to share their hearts and personal thoughts. If you, the participant, is able to set up in a space where there is not much interaction of others, this will enhance the individual sessions, along with the group workshops.

IN-PERSON: Both individual and group sessions are provided a safe space where there will be no distractions or interruptions. The space is designed for Dianne and the individual and/or parents and guardians.

There is no tolerance for violence or bullying in both virtual and in-person sessions and workshops.

ART SUPPLIES

VIRTUAL: Kreate What U Want, Dianne Furphy asks for you to bring your own art supplies to virtual individual and/or group sessions. An email is sent before your session to tell you what art supplies are needed to bring to each session.

IN-PERSON: Kreate What U Want, Dianne Furphy provides all art materials during group and individual sessions. If the individual wants to bring their own art supplies to a one-on-one session, the individual is permitted to do so. For group sessions, Dianne asks to allow her to provide you the art materials since group sessions are designed accordingly, unless Dianne permits and agrees to bring your own art materials.
